May Meeting Agenda

Astrophotography

Presented by Robert Arn

BY TONY PARISO

PROGRAMS@LPS.CC

If you want to see outstanding examples of Astrophotography, check out this website <http://www.astroarn.com/>. On the other hand, if you'd like to learn how to take shots like those on the website come to our May meeting. Our presenter, Robert Arn, is an amateur astronomer and photographer. He is currently a grad student at Colorado State University, working on a PhD in Mathematics. His passion is capturing images of the universe and he often climbs mountains or seeks out locations away from the light contamination generated by city lights to capture the night sky. He is the author of Photography At Night: An Introduction To Astrophotography on a Budget, an excellent guide for beginners in this area.

I know some of our members are well versed in this area but I think they will appreciate the spectacular images Robert creates. Others, like me, with little experience will have the opportunity to learn about the equipment and techniques necessary to capture great images of the night sky. With the coming of summer and for those of us going on the Bisti Badlands Field trip, this month's presentation will provide an excellent opportunity to review/learn techniques that will enable you to take advantage of the opportunities that abound in Colorado to capture images of the night sky.

Student Photos Shine in LPS Youth Showcase

BY RUTH SPRAIN
SCHOLARSHIPS@LPS.CC

Over 480 prints and digital photos were entered in the 2016 LPS Youth Showcase. Fourteen schools from Loveland, Fort Collins, Greeley, Frederick, Mead, Brighton, and the Denver area participated in the competition. The Nancy Abrahams Best Senior Award with its $250 prize goes to Catherine Barisas from Polaris Expeditionary Learning School in Fort Collins. The Second Place Senior Award goes to Leah Ortowski from Mountain View in Loveland.

First place winners in six print and digital categories receive $25 Jax gift cards. Second through fourth place winners receive certificates and ribbons. All winning LPS photos are entered into the PSA Youth Showcase. The PSA awards are announced in summer. Winners and accepted photos from PSA are displayed at the PSA Conference in San Antonio.

First place winning photos are included in this month's newsletter. Plus, the winning photos will be shown at the May LPS meeting. Join us in celebrating the talented youth photographers in northern Colorado.

Thanks to the LPS Youth Showcase Committee including Rich Krebs, Lynne Lewis, Carol Tyler, John Yurchak, Ruth Sprain, and Lorie Smith. Thank you also to our invited judges JR and Lisa Schnelzer. Many thanks to Jax Outdoor Gear for their generous donation of $100 in gift cards.
